BUSINESS HONESTY.

Character is what a man really is. Roputation is what he appears to be or is supposed to be. Not every time do character and reputation coincide in the sune individual. The Mon who do not care for character because they know they are dish neat will stoop to anything in their power to protect their reputation. The rime has come when character amounts to so much that reputation for honesty becomes exceedingly valuable. It may save a man from becoming publicly disgraced. Valuable as a good character is in-this world it is not sufficiently appreciated. It should be rewarded by emplayers, particularly when coupled with husiness capability. But there are emloyers unsrupulous enough not to want a man who may, under certain circumstances, refuse to do their bidding in. some crooked, transaction, and for that reason the honest man may sometimes go

Never before in the world's history has there been such a need of men of honesty and integrity to do the world's business. The reasons for this are plain. Through the vast interventions of corporations and combinations by which commerce and industry is carried on, the owners and stockholders of every line of business are so far removed from the seat of its operations that it is utterly impossible for them to look after its affairs and to investigate their interests. The stockholders must as a result trust to their president and directors, and the average stockolder in a great trust is so insignificant an atom in the combination of the present time, that if he should attempt to make any investigation and ask any searching question of the magnates who manage his business, the chances are he would be severly snubbed if indeed not treated with contempt. The case is fully illustrated in the following: Two men we applying for an important and confidential position in a large concern. Both men were equally capable. One appellant was represented to be scrupously honest. The backer of the other applicant declared that his man would make any statement on any subject that his employers desired. The man of pliable and plastic conscience got the appoint-

His employeers did not seem to realize that when they engaged a man to deceive and plunder their customers, they were educating and maintaining a thick who might at any time turn on his employer and rob him.

However able a president of such a large trust may be, on account of the vastness and wide range of the business, he is unable to maintain the proper watchful care of its many operations, and is obliged to trust much to his chief lieutenants. Such business enterprises are organized like an army into divisions and sections, each of which is placed in charge of some trust-ed chief, who in turn has a large number of subordinates under him.

But the servants cannot be expected to be better than their masters. When the men in high places are dishonest and un-scrupulous and their subordinates know it, they can scarcely be blamed if the latter follow the example set them. When subordinates are given to plainly understand that they must take every possible advan-tage of customers or others who fall into their hands, the effect on the honesty of the employees is extremely bad. If a business concern habitually gives short weights to customers, or will pass off an inferior grade of goods on those who are ignorant of the real value, but whose defects are ingeniously concealed, the crook-ed work is done by the employees, but it is done under orders, and done for the benefit of the employer. True, some men will not commit a dishonest act of this character under any circumstances, but there are others, who have a family to support, who feel that they connot give up a situation that insures them a living. They quiet their conscience upon the reflection that they are not carrying out their own wishes in the wansaction; but that while committing acts which they loath and abhor, they are earrying out orders which they are required to do in the discharge of their duty.

What about the conscience of the employer? He may comfort himself with the TON AND MACAO STEAMBOAT What about the conscience of the employer? He may comfort minsen with the face that he is growing richer, which he looks as upon the main interest in life, but he should stop long enough to remember that he is educating a set of thieves who may in the end plunder him. There is an expression of how.

TON AND MAUAO STEABLIGHT OF ST ing and selling-- 'Cavact Emptor'-let the purchaser take care of himself. The February, 1903, will be submitted for hand and steer for the Fort Buoy. Care buyer is a man out of whom money is to be made, let him take care of himself and bok out for his own interests. When the immensity of the business eparations of the present day are considered, it is impossible not to be struck with the fact that of the vast armies of men working in places of trust and responsibility, so few particularly in the lower grades, prove to be dishonest. The greatest amount of defalcation and dishonesty is found among those in thigh places. But the fact remains that there never before was a time when there was such a need of honest men. Honest men should stand to their principle. They constitute the foundation auson which the noble structure of honor and virtue is built and must ever remain.

TO PREVENT CROUP, BEGIN in time. The first symptom is hourseness, this is soon followed by a peouliar rough cough, which is easily recogmized and will never be forgetten by one who has heard it. The time to act is when the child first becomes hearse. If Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is freely given, all rendency to croup will soon disappear. Even after the croupy cough has developed, it will prevent the attack. There is no danger in given this remedy as it contains | THE THIRTY-FOURTH ORDINARY nothing injurious. It always cures and Eures quickly. For sale by All Dealers; WATKINS Ltd., General Agents.

The education within the reach of the children of Hongkong comprises, English, Anglo-Chinese, and Vernacular. With the first and last here we have nothing to do. The question of Anglo-Chinese schools here in Hongkong is looking forward to a business career, one of great importance and interest, where English would be essential. The Indian is wedded to class, and cannot get away from this caste-ridden condition. The truth of this story is borne out in the following little happening at the local police court. An Indian Constable made an arrest in the course of a row at Kennedy Town, The origin of the scuffle was the non-payal on the part of a long gowned, high-caste Chinaman of ricksha fare from the centre of the City. The Chinese aristocrat offered the coolie 5 cents, which the ricksha-puller deemed too little, and refused. Thereupon, the fare ran into a little cook shop, which happened to be a part of his Kennedy Town property, and throwing off his long badly mauled, and a watchman came to his rescue. The Chines grandes charged the watchman with being an impostor, and told an Indian constable that the watchman and coolie hadstolen his goldchain. At the Police not be just. Scotland Boats Wales.

A London telegram dated 7th February states that Scotland had beaten Walca in the Rughy football match by six goals to 50 nil. This was probably a telegraphic mistake, as it is far from likely that Scotland could beat Wales by six goals; more like 50 ly, the score was two tries (or six points) 50 to nil. Wales is particularly strong this year, and it was thought, after defeating 50 England by 3 goals and 2 tries to 1 goal, that they would retain the championship. Dealing with the first incident of the affair, the Indian watchman's assault on the Chinese girl, he said there was no auggestion that any indecent act had been attempted. But what the Indian did do was rough and vulgar-he took the bamboo off her shoulder and gave her a blow with it on the buttock. That was very wrong, but it must be remembered that he was not dealing with a very refined sort of person. 1 would have been no use for him have said: Would you be so good na to put down that wood you have stolen! Association. In the absence of Major General Sir William Gascoigne, K.C.M.G., Major W Baker Brown, R.E., presided at the annual meeting of members of the Hongkong Rifle Association, which was held yesterday evening in the Hongkong Hotel. The Hon. Secretary (Mr Mowbray S. Northcote) read the minutes of the last annual meeting, which were approved,

On the motion of the Chairman, the report and accounts were adopted. The Hon. Secretary said that, as they all know, the range they were now using was part of the King's Park and would very soon have to be given up. He understood from H.E. the General that the Colonial Government had arranged a site for a mili tary range and when doing so stipulated that the Association should not be forgotten. H.E. had sent for him to say that it was impossible to make any such arrangement as set themselves up as prosecutors, judge, existed at present with the Navy-fixed days and fixed hours-but suggested as a way out of the difficulty that they should amalgamate with the Army Rifle Association, by which they would have the use of their range at all times, as well as transport to and from the range and other advantages. In the event of the members not accepting that proposal there remained two alternatives, either to make a new arrangement with the Navy for sharing this figure. The Annual Report of the Stonecutters' Island range-which thought they would agree would be very inconvenient for them-or to find a new range for themselves, which might be an impossibility. Perhaps Major Baker Brown would be able to tell them something more of the matter. The Chairman said he had been asked by General Gascoigne to attend the meeting and explain any points the members might not to come so as to leave members free to discuss the question. The present ranges At 8.30 p.m. his address to Men Only, on | must be closed as part of the King's Park, and the Colonial Government must find suitable ranges elsewhere. The Chairman moved the re-election of Mr Northcoto as Hon. Secretary.

Mr Stackwood seconded. Mr Stewart, in supporting the motion, said that during the time Mr Northcote had been Secretary the Association had gone on flourishing. (Applause). There was no plause).

The motion was carried unenimously.

The Hon. Secretary said it had been his intention not to seek re-election, but an they had put it so very kindly he would be pleased to carry on for another twelvemonth. (Applause). A vote of thanks was, on the motion of Mr Parkes, awarded to Major Baker Brown for presiding, and this concluded the business.

A HARROGATE CHEMIST ON STEARNS' WINE OF

COD LIVER OIL. Public attention has been so much attracted of late to the new development in medicine Steams' Wine of Cod Liver Oil that the following letter will be read with interest :--Mornington House, Harrogate. My attention having been drawn to Stearns' Mino of Cod Liver Oil with Pentonate of Iron, I have pleasure in tell ing you that I can recommend this preparation to the public as the best medicine I so elegantly prepared that the taste is not at all perceptible. It is most valuable as a tonic, as well as a vehicle for cod liver oil, pleasant to the faste, and easily assimilated. I can highly recommend cod

> WILLIAM THOS. SWAIN, Pharmaceutical Chemist.

This unimpeachable testimony has been borne out by all that we have heard concerning Steams' Wine of Cod Liver Oil, which, as the most effectual substitute for ordinary cod liver oil yet devised by medical science, is now being very generally prescribed for wasting diseases of all kinds. The extractive principles of codliver oil, combined with a rich wine, together with a desirable quantity of peptonate of from form the solo ingredients of Steams' Wine of Cod Liver Oil. It is an ideal restorative and tissue-builder, and a powerful tonic. Stearns' Wine of Cod Liver Oil, being acceptable to the most delicate stomach, is un ideal medicine for convolescents, assisting repovery with maryellous, raiddity. Sold by all Chemists and A. S. THE NEW FRENCH REMEDY

This successful and highly popular remedy, a employed in the Continental Hospitals by Ricord Rostan, Jobert, Velpeau, and others, combines all the desiderata to be sought in a medicine of the kind and surpasses everything hitherto employed. THERAPION No. 1 in a remarkably short time, often a few days only, removes all discharges from the urinary organs, superseding injections, the use of which does irre-parable harm by laying the foundation of stricture and other serious diseases. THERAPION NO. 2 for impurity of the blood, scurvy, pimples, spots, blotches, pains and swelling of the joints, secondary symptoms, gout, theumatism, and all diseases for which it has been too much a fashion to employ mercury, sarsaparilla, &c., to the destruction of sufferers' teeth and ruin of health. This preparation purifies the whole system through the blood, and thoroughly eliminates every poisonous matter from the body. THERAPION No.3 for nervous exhaustion, impaired vitality, sleeples ness, and all the distressing consequences of early error, excess, residence in hot, unhealthy climates, &c. It possesses surprising power in restoring strength and vignur to the debilitated.
